

SUMMARY

- Define the target segment of customers that the persona will represent
- Make the persona look as real as possible while incorporating all the key qualities and traits of the target customer segment
- Customer journey maps out the interaction with the product: from the first encounter to the moment they finish using the product