

SUMMARY

- Agile was born in software industry, but can be applied in most domains (to a certain extent)
- Things to consider: product type, dependencies, legal considerations, freedom to experiment, organizational structure
- Ways to become a bit more Agile: iterative planning, backlog management, customer centricity, experimentation