

SUMMARY

- "All team members must work on all backlog items" is a misconception and rarely works in real life
- In Agile we value T-shaped specialists
- Agile organizations give people opportunity to develop their careers as specialists (not necessarily doing people's management)